Internationalization Day 2020 – Towards a globalized curriculum

Call for proposals

Submission deadline: November 18, 2019, 12:00 a.m. (midnight), Eastern Time

In order to support curriculum internationalization and highlight existing internationalization initiatives, the University of Ottawa is proud to organize its Internationalization Day 2020: Towards a globalized curriculum, the first edition of an annual event. This will be an opportunity to celebrate, learn and share good practices in the internationalization of Higher education.

Purpose of this call

The purpose of this call for proposals is to identify internationalized courses, programs and educational activities and to invite those responsible to present their initiatives at Session II of this Internationalization Day.

By sharing your experience with the participants in the Internationalization Day 2020, you will help your colleagues to better understand the issues and benefits, but also the difficulties related to this type of work. Sharing your experiences will ensure that others can learn and are better equipped to internationalize the curriculum of their program, course or pedagogical activity.

Your proposal should include the following elements:

1. Identification of the initiative
2. Faculty or Service
3. Name of the contact person
4. Contact information (email and phone number)
5. Description of the proposed presentation:
   • How does the initiative meet the following definition of internationalization of the curriculum? (maximum 100 words)

     Curriculum internationalization is the process of integrating global, international and intercultural perspectives into a curriculum, in terms of content, pedagogical approach and learning outcomes, with the aim of training professionals and global citizens.

6. Indication of the preferred form of presentation (in order of preference)
   • Pecha Kucha or Ignite: format synchronizing an oral presentation with the projection of 10 slides in continuous succession (automated) every 15 to 20 seconds without animation effects. The presentation lasts between 5 and 7 minutes.
   • Poster: The poster presentation is a kind of showcase for your work. It is a matter of presenting and outlining the main points. The content is less dense than in an oral presentation, but more detailed than a simple summary. The essential ideas are presented in a synthetic and schematic way on a single large poster.

- World Café: Includes two blocks of presentations (10 minutes each) during which you will raise questions. At the end of each block, there will be a 25-minute discussion period. Participants will then be invited to discuss the themes from the presentations as well as the questions formulated by moving from one sub-group to another.
- Marketplace: Participation in a showroom style, each proposer has a table assigned to welcome the participants and present the proposed initiative for 5 to 7 minutes. Participants will move between tables and you will present to the other groups of participant.

How are proposals evaluated?

Please note that the selection process for this call for proposals will be a one-step process.

A selection committee will evaluate the proposals and select those that best illustrate the definition of internationalization cited above. The committee will also aim to ensure that the proposals selected are representative and varied.

Following the selection

Following the selection, an email will be sent to proposers before 15 December 2019, informing them of the outcome of the call.

Successful proposals will be invited to prepare a presentation in one of the formats noted above with content that provides a solid overview of the aspects noted below. Texts should be provided in both French AND English, and proposers should be able, alone or with a colleague, to answer questions in both official languages:

- Stages of internationalization of content,
- Delivery method or type of offer
- Results of the course, program or pedagogical activity
